

DADDY SAYS HE HAS WHOLE LOT TO TELL COURT

Browning To Disclose Bride's Alleged Affairs Before She Was Married

New York, Jan. 27.—Although it seems unbelievable, all the "dirt" in the Daddy-Peaches trial hasn't been told yet.

Not to be outdone by Peaches, "Daddy" Browning, the big gambler, man himself, is going on the witness stand next week when the Browning separation case is resumed at White Plains, and he promises to tell "plenty." In the words of one of his lawyers, "he's going to put the shoe on the other foot"—meaning that all kinds of dirt is to be dug at the Bronx Peaches. There are many who think the nation might well be spared the low down on Peaches—and, if Daddy's testimony lives up to advance notice it certainly will be low enough. The New York Society for the Prevention of Vice for one, wants to clamp the lid down on the whole show. It has registered a protest to the judge, but it hasn't done any good.

To Tell of "Affairs" Peaches' alleged love affairs with boys before she married the baggy-eyed millionaire, is to be the main target of Daddy. Also, Daddy's attorneys will put witnesses on the stand, it is hinted, who will try to show that Peaches wasn't a good girl when she married Browning although Peaches herself, shouting from the stand yesterday that she was.

"That African looking goose that the big gambler bought his bride after they were married will probably get a lot more publicity. This goose has unwittingly and happily drawn a lot of attention from other and more odorous aspects of the case.

It was reported today that the one witness Peaches' side has set to put on the stand will be a distinguished attorney who is said to have made a study of Daddy and reached the conclusion he is suffering from "mental fatigue."

Peaches Fatigued

Peaches herself was fatigued today, mentally and physically. "Until this trial is resumed on Monday," she said, "I'm just going to sleep and sleep—I'm all tired out."

Her attorney, Henry Epstein, said Peaches proved she is a "plucky girl" and he's proud of her. "I should think by now everybody would realize that she is no gold digger," he said. "She told the truth on the stand."

The important feature of the dispute between Daddy and Peaches—the determination of how much money the millionaire real estate operator possesses and therefore how much money he may be expected to pay, if any—has been put off by consent of counsel for both sides until after the trial is concluded.

FRED MOREHEAD CASE

TO BE HEARD MONDAY

Hearing of the case of Fred Morehead, former local man arrested at Toledo last week on a charge of having removed a mortgaged automobile from Marion County to Toledo, has been set for 8 o'clock Monday morning. The case was to have been heard yesterday but was continued to give Morehead an opportunity to effect a settlement, negotiations for which are now in progress.

The charge against Morehead was filed by J. Stout, local automobile dealer, who held a mortgage on the automobile involved in the case.

TAKEN HOME

Sam Detrick, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at City Hospital, was removed to his home, 441 Olney-av., yesterday noon in the M. H. Gauder invalid coach.

DOG JOKERS AND FOLLOWERS OF MOTION PICTURE STARRING CANINE WILL BE GIVEN AN OPPORTUNITY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY TO SEE ALEXANDER THE GREAT, THE FAMOUS POLICE DOG AND CANINE MOVIE STAR AT THE OAKLAND THEATRE.

This famous animal, father of Peter the Great, killed recently during the production of a picture in California, will appear with its owners, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. BROTHERS ARE RELEASED BY JUDGE W. R. MARTIN

Doyle and Kenneth Gurns, Charged with Fighting, Dismissed Before Hearing

Doyle Gurns, 18, and Kenneth Gurns, 20, of 554 Henry-av., brothers arrested early Tuesday night on a disorderly conduct charge, were released on orders issued by Municipal Judge William R. Martin yesterday.

The two boys, reported by police to have been fighting at the rear of the Woolworth store on W. Center-st., pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Municipal Court and their hearings were set for 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

They were ordered released by Judge Martin, however, after he investigated the case and found that their offense was not sufficiently serious to warrant a trial.

Neighbors Complain of Hilarious Party at Operative's Home

Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—Possibly half a dozen "star" federal prohibition agents working out of the Cincinnati headquarters today were expected to get their "walking papers" following a conference here late yesterday between W. H. Walker, prohibition director of the Ohio district, and Sylvester Davis, chief of the local division.

Although no official announcement was made, it was reported that several cases of whisky found their way to an operative's home and that nearby residents subsequently complained of an hilarious party.

ment proposal to the state legislature next week. It was announced today by a committee of local lawyers appointed to draft the measure.

The amendments are proposed to change some provisions of the statute which created the Municipal Court and provided rules for its operation and to make certain additions which local attorneys and Judge Martin say are essential for effective operation of the tribunal.

Will Hear Approval
The amendment proposal when finally completed will bear the local Bar Association's formal stamp of approval and it is believed that this endorsement will assure its passage in the legislature.

A tentative draft of the bill drawn up several weeks ago at a conference held by City Solicitor George T. Gorman, former Solicitor Grant E. Mouser and Judge Martin was handed to 11 E. Hill, Marion County's representative in the legislature, but Mr. Hill decided that it would be advisable to have the measure approved by the bar association before placing it in the legislative hopper.

Proposed Changes
The proposed changes by Gorman, Mouser and Martin included four changes in the court statute, providing that revenues from fines in city cases shall be placed in the general fund of the municipal treasury instead of the safety fund, another giving the mayor authority to appoint a substitute magistrate to operate the court whenever the judge is unable to be on duty, one authorizing the judge to appoint a trustee to handle wage assignment cases and the fourth establishing uniform fees in all civil cases to conform to the fees collected in justice of the peace courts.

All of these provisions, with possible exception of the one relating to disposition of money collected from fines, will be given the bar association's approval without any controversial discussion, members of the committee predict.

Opinions Differ
It was indicated today, however, that there is a difference of opinion among local lawyers regarding what should be done with revenue from fines which may result in the proposed amendment on this point being eliminated. Should this be done, the present arrangement of placing this money to the credit of the public safety fund will remain unchanged.

Advocates of the proposal to have the revenue from fines go into the city's general fund support their view with the claim that this money is earmarked by the Municipal Court and should be placed where it could be used to help pay the court's expenses. On the other hand, those opposing any change in this section of the statute assert that since fines are collected as the result of arrests made by the police, the money should go to the safety fund, from which salaries and other expenses of the police department are paid.

Should arguments for the safety fund be sustained and the proposed amendment be defeated, there will be little chance for the court to pay its own expenses, officials state. It will be credited with fees and costs collected in civil suits but this will not be sufficient to cover the tribunal's operating expenses, according to estimates made at this time.

Last Year's Total
Last year, before the Municipal Court began operating, fines collected by the mayor in police court cases totaled about $14,000. This money, and receipts from fines in former years, went to the credit of the general fund, the change to the safety fund not being made until the Municipal Court statute went into effect on Jan. 1.

Should the system in effect in former years be restored, revenue from fines will not only place the Municipal Court on a self-sustaining basis but result in its yielding a profit for the city, it is claimed.

John H. Clark, J. W. Jacoby, Fred W. Warner and Fred E. Guthrie make up the committee of lawyers to which the proposed amendments have been submitted and who will report to the bar association meeting scheduled for this week.

Should this be done, the present arrangement of placing this money to the credit of the public safety fund will remain unchanged.

Advocates of the proposal to have the revenue from fines go into the city's general fund support their view with the claim that this money is earmarked by the Municipal Court and should be placed where it could be used to help pay the court's expenses. On the other hand, those opposing any change in this section of the statute assert that since fines are collected as the result of arrests made by the police, the money should go to the safety fund, from which salaries and other expenses of the police department are paid.

Should arguments for the safety fund be sustained and the proposed amendment be defeated, there will be little chance for the court to pay its own expenses, officials state. It will be credited with fees and costs collected in civil suits but this will not be sufficient to cover the tribunal's operating expenses, according to estimates made at this time.

Last Year's Total
Last year, before the Municipal Court began operating, fines collected by the mayor in police court cases totaled about $14,000. This money, and receipts from fines in former years, went to the credit of the general fund, the change to the safety fund not being made until the Municipal Court statute went into effect on Jan. 1.

Should the system in effect in former years be restored, revenue from fines will not only place the Municipal Court on a self-sustaining basis but result in its yielding a profit for the city, it is claimed.

John H. Clark, J. W. Jacoby, Fred W. Warner and Fred E. Guthrie make up the committee of lawyers to which the proposed amendments have been submitted and who will report to the bar association meeting scheduled for this week.

ment proposal to the state legislature next week. It was announced today by a committee of local lawyers appointed to draft the measure.

The amendments are proposed to change some provisions of the statute which created the Municipal Court and provided rules for its operation and to make certain additions which local attorneys and Judge Martin say are essential for effective operation of the tribunal.

Will Hear Approval
The amendment proposal when finally completed will bear the local Bar Association's formal stamp of approval and it is believed that this endorsement will assure its passage in the legislature.

A tentative draft of the bill drawn up several weeks ago at a conference held by City Solicitor George T. Gorman, former Solicitor Grant E. Mouser and Judge Martin was handed to 11 E. Hill, Marion County's representative in the legislature, but Mr. Hill decided that it would be advisable to have the measure approved by the bar association before placing it in the legislative hopper.

Proposed Changes
The proposed changes by Gorman, Mouser and Martin included four changes in the court statute, providing that revenues from fines in city cases shall be placed in the general fund of the municipal treasury instead of the safety fund, another giving the mayor authority to appoint a substitute magistrate to operate the court whenever the judge is unable to be on duty, one authorizing the judge to appoint a trustee to handle wage assignment cases and the fourth establishing uniform fees in all civil cases to conform to the fees collected in justice of the peace courts.

All of these provisions, with possible exception of the one relating to disposition of money collected from fines, will be given the bar association's approval without any controversial discussion, members of the committee predict.

Opinions Differ
It was indicated today, however, that there is a difference of opinion among local lawyers regarding what should be done with revenue from fines which may result in the proposed amendment on this point being eliminated. Should this be done, the present arrangement of placing this money to the credit of the public safety fund will remain unchanged.

Advocates of the proposal to have the revenue from fines go into the city's general fund support their view with the claim that this money is earmarked by the Municipal Court and should be placed where it could be used to help pay the court's expenses. WARMER WEATHER WITH RAIN, SNOW FORECAST

Thermometer Here Registers
Two Degrees Above Zero;
High Mark Is 16

Warmer weather, with prospects of rain or snow late Friday will take the edge off the cold spell that shut down on Ohio yesterday.

The official thermometer registered two degrees above zero for the coldest point, last night, while several persons about the city reported their thermometers showed one and two degrees below zero at an early hour this morning.

First relief from the cold wave will come tonight, the weatherman forecast this morning. Increasing cloudiness and a slight rise in the temperature tonight will be followed by higher temperatures and light rains or snow Friday.

The high point for the mercury yesterday was 16 degrees above. A year ago the weather was moderate, with a high point of 30 and a low of 21 degrees.

Invention of an airplane with helicopter attachment, which, it is hoped, will make aviation safe, has been announced by a Japanese inventor.

JURY HEARING R. E. BISHOP CASE IS DISMISSED

Unable To Agree on Verdict;
11 Vote for Acquittal; Take Four Ballots

Voting 11 for acquittal and one for conviction, the jury hearing the case of R. E. Bishop, on trial in Common Pleas Court on a charge of attempted attack on a girl, reported to Judge George B. Seefeld that they were unable to agree and were discharged at 6:30 last night.

The jury was out slightly more than two hours, and took four ballots. After the fourth ballot they reported to Judge Seefeld that they were unable to come to an agreement, and were discharged. The case went to the jury at 4:20 Wednesday afternoon, and it was nearly 6:30 when Henry Bollinger, farmer, living near Marietta, foreman of the jury, told Judge Seefeld that the jury was unable to agree on a verdict. Prosecutor Frank Wiedemann said today he was undecided as to what would follow. He said he wanted time to go over the case again, and check up on the jury report and then would decide whether or not the case would be tried again.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATION

ADJUSTMENT OF FREIGHT RATES IS DEMANDED

Defy Muried at Interstate Commerce Commission by United Mine Workers' Head

Indianapolis, Jan. 27.—Scientific adjustment of the coal freight rate structure in the United States was demanded today by President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers as one of the remedies for the ills of the American coal mine.

In a supplementary report to the 30th Constitutional Convention of the International Union, Lewis blamed discriminatory coal freight rates for the lack of stability in the bituminous coal industry and attacked the interstate commerce commission for actually aggravating the evil by its recent policies.

Referring to a statement on August 16, 1926, by William A. Disque, one of the examiners of the I. C. C. in his report on an Indiana coal rate case in which Disque blamed the miners' wage scale for the ills of the Indiana coal industry, Lewis hurled this defiance at the commission:

"Challenge the right of the interstate commerce commission or its representatives to use its great power to break down the wage standards and the living conditions of the workers in the organized section of the American coal industry. The stagnation of a great industry and the pauperization of mining communities cannot be justified upon any such promise and it is amazing to believe that there are those attached to your commission who will enunciate the thought that the salvation of the coal industry in the northern states depends upon the ability of the coal operators to degrade their workers and deprive them of the inherent privileges to a degree which exists in the same industry in the states of Kentucky and Virginia."

INVITE FEDERATION HEAD TO TALK
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 27.—The United Mine Workers of America today voted to invite William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor to address the miners' convention here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

A few minutes before the bid was extended to Green, the mine delegates loudly cheered Powers Haggard from the convention hall when he sought to address the assembly.

COMMITTEE WORKS ON AMENDMENT
Indianapolis, Jan. 27.—The United Mine Workers of America, one of the largest labor organizations in the world, today moved to eliminate radical membership by an amendment to its constitution.

As the 30th Constitutional Convention opened on Monday and waited for the report of the committee to whom the task of drafting such an amendment had been entrusted, President John L. Lewis delivered a supplement report recommending readjustment of coal freight rates throughout the country.

LOSE FAT IN THIS PLEASANT WAY

Not by abnormal exercise or diet, but by correcting the cause of excess fat, as countless people now are doing. That way is Marmola Prescription Tablets, used for 19 years. Today you see the results in every circle, in figures made girlish and slender. The use of Marmola has grown to very large numbers because of these proved results. You give yourself the test of a scientific help which has done so much for so many. The results will surprise and delight you.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. A booklet in each box tells why it acts. Go get it now and watch the results on fat.

BROADCASTING DISCUSSED BY RADIO PIONEER

KDKA Announcer Tells Kiwanis Club of Incidents in First Programs

Incidents in the early period of broadcasting talks and programs from Station KDKA, the pioneer radio station in this country of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., at East Pittsburgh, were told to members of the Marion Kiwanis Club at the luncheon Thursday noon by H. W. Arlin, announcer of the KDKA since the early days of the station.

There is much that goes on in a broadcasting studio that the public never hears about, Arlin said. He revealed for the first time why one program, given in the first year of the station was in operation was interrupted.

Inhaler Mock
Arlin said that the first "studio" was on the roof of a one-story building. The place was a shanty, with drop lights and illumination for the singers and musicians. Moths used to cluster about these lights, and on the particular night he spoke of the young man singing inhaled one of these moths, choking him so badly that he could not finish the song. Arlin said that for months afterward letters were received asking why the program had been interrupted or that night was.

Then there was the time that "Habe" Ruth came to KDKA to give a talk. After being introduced Ruth got into a fight and could not say a word. So the managing editor of a Pittsburgh paper, who was with him, read the speech which had been written for Ruth by the sporting editor of the paper. The managing editor later commending the fine voice Ruth possessed.

Difficult Situation
Arlin said one of the most difficult situations he ever got into was the time Roger W. Babson, the eminent statistician, spoke for five minutes through the microphone and then it was discovered that the transmitting apparatus had not been turned on. Babson is a temperamental talker. Arlin said, and it had required considerable pains to get him into a talking mood, and to make him comfortable before the microphone. It was his job, Arlin said, to go to Babson and inform him that he would have to start all over again.

Set Time
The modern end of broadcasting furnishes many things that the public never gets an inkling of, Arlin said. There is the stunt now to be used, related, of selling time to firms for advertising purposes. Radio fans will notice, he said, that the name of the singer, or that of the orchestra or musician is seldom given when such a program is broadcast. The singer, or musician, he said, is probably one who performed every night that week, each night for a different firm.

International relations in connection with broadcasting now furnish an interesting angle to the business. Programs are broadcast by KDKA now to England, where they are relayed to all countries of Europe, also to Australia and South Africa.

Station KDKA started broadcasting under that call in October, 1920, Arlin said, and since that time has not been silent one night. He spoke of the recent use of radio in keeping in touch with parties in the far north, and the many advances in recent years.

definite understanding with Cobb, Speaker and Wood.

"This is the Cobb-Speaker case. These players have not been, nor are they now, found guilty of fixing a ball game," Judge Landis' statement began as follows:

"Tris R. Cobb and Tris Speaker have asked that their baseball status be defined. This request is in contemplation of possible future service and is in accordance with the commissioner's statement of Dec. 21, 1926, as follows:

"The following being out of baseball, no decision will be made unless changed conditions in the future require it."

"By resolution of Sept. 9, 1926, the American League directors requested that a hearing be held respecting allegations by Hubert Leonard of improper conduct by Cobb, Speaker, Joe Wood and Leonard in connection with the Detroit-Cleveland game of Sept. 25, 1926, and two letters to Leonard by Cobb and Speaker relating thereto.

"Cobb, Speaker and Wood are available, but Leonard, a retired player, residing in California, declined to attend a hearing. Therefore his statement was taken in California and in substance as that this game had been 'fixed'."

first regarded as confirming charges of fraud, the judge's statement said in reviewing the background of the case of the two players.

AUGUSTA HAPPY OVER DECISION

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 27.—Another demonstration in honor of Tris Cobb was arranged by the chamber of commerce here today, immediately upon receipt of news that the Georgia Peach and Tris Speaker had been exonerated of Dutch Leonard's charges by Judge Landis.

Cobb and a party of friends were on a hunting trip near Georgetown, S. C., just across the river from Augusta. He was temporarily put off from his trip, but according to word at the Cobb house, was expected to return here late today.

The celebration will take the form of a jubilation by the town which has always expressed its belief that Tris was innocent. Leading citizens honored Cobb at a mass meeting several weeks ago, when the charges were first made public.

TICKLED TO DEATH, SPEAKER DECLARES

Cleveland, Jan. 27.—"I am tickled to death at the outcome and at the prospect of going back into baseball again," declared Tris Speaker here today when informed by International News Service that Judge Landis had absolved him of charges of having participated in a plan to "throw" a baseball game.

"I can not make a statement as to my future plans at this time as I have arrived at no definite conclusion yet. However, I expect to play baseball next season."

William H. Reed, Speaker's attorney, was here today to announce the decision and declared: "I made a thorough investigation from every angle of the charges against Speaker and found that he was innocent of any wrongdoing."

REED RENEWS FIGHT FOR TAX RELIEF ACTION

Big Gun Bombardment in Congress Comes in Reply to Republican Announcement

Washington, Jan. 27.—Carrying their fight for immediate tax reduction in the open, Democratic leaders today launched a big gun bombardment of the administration in both houses of congress for enactment of tax relief legislation before the March 4 adjournment.

In the senate, the Democrats sought a direct vote upon the Reed proposal for a 10 per cent slash in income taxes payable this year. In the house, they called upon the administration for action on the Democratic "round robin" demanding passage of a bill, immediately reducing income taxes and repealing surtaxes.

The Democratic answer to the Republican announcement that a tax reduction bill, totaling a cut between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000, will be sponsored by the administration next December, the announcement was made by Representative Madden, Republican of Illinois, following a conference with President Coolidge.

The Reed plan, a taxpayer making a return for the calendar year of 1926, shall be entitled to an allowance by credit or refund of 10 per cent of the amount shown as the tax upon his return, each credit to be applied to the portion of the tax paid before July 1, 1927.

Challenge Republicans
Reed challenged the Republicans to support his plan. He called attention to President Coolidge's declaration that the practice of a government in collecting more taxes than necessary for its maintenance was an act of "legalized larceny." The administration Republicans, however, remained hostile to the proposals.

The deficiency appropriation bill, with the Reed plan as a rider, carries $184,000,000 of which $155,000,000 is provided to pay the interest on the national debt. The bill is amended so that all the claims must be approved by Comptroller General McCall before they can be paid.

Katharine Brush, 25, daughter-in-law of Louis H. Brush, president of The Harding Publishing Co., who covered the world's last two years in the Star during the last two years in the Star, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, reported Tuesday night.

Mrs. Brush, who is in Hollywood supervising the production of her novel "Glitter," published in serial form in The Star a short time ago, was stricken Tuesday night. She was taken to the Los Angeles hospital, where an operation was immediately performed.

A complication of the Los Angeles hospital stated that when complications arise Mrs. Brush will be able to be out again within the past two weeks.

led by new treaties negotiated with somebody representing China and subsequently ratified by the senate of the United States. The only difficulty the state department sees in regard to the drawing up of new agreements is the inability to find someone in China, fairly representative of all the people, with whom to negotiate.

This government is not particularly anxious to negotiate with the Chinese alone or in concert with the other powers as England has requested. Despite its readiness to discuss new treaties the United States will not conditionally relinquish its extraterritorial rights. Such a step will not be taken until "China is prepared to provide protection by law and through her courts to American citizens, their rights and property."

Keep "Open Door" Policy
In any event, this country will expect that it be given most favored nation treatment and that there should be no discrimination against the United States and its citizens in customs, duties or taxes. In favor of the citizens of other nations or discrimination by grants of special privileges and that the open door with equal opportunity for trade in China shall be maintained.

In failing to provide an acceptable opportunity for treaty negotiations and failing to afford sufficient protection to American lives and property, the Chinese are warned that "it is, of course, the fundamental duty of the United States to protect the lives and property of its citizens" and "it is with the possible necessity for this in view, that American naval forces are now in China."

The statement, it was explained, was not intended as a direct reply to either the British memorandum of Dec. 25 or to the manifesto issued last week by Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister.

Orders American Protection
The British statement suggested that cooperation between the powers would be the only effective means of dealing with the Chinese problem. Kellogg ignored the British suggestion, although he left the door open to cooperation if such a method of procedure is desired by the Chinese.

Chen offered to protect the nationals of any government which would take steps in the immediate future looking toward treaty revision. Apparently the United States, Chen and his associates issued specific orders that Americans in territory under Cantonese control be given special protection.

Meanwhile the government takes an increasingly pessimistic view of the developments near Shanghai. A close censorship of official dispatches from China is being observed, while none of the instructions sent to Rear Admiral Williams, commander of the American fleet in Chinese waters, is being revealed.

BRITISH ENTHUSED OVER STATEMENT

London, Jan. 27.—The statement of Secretary of State Kellogg on the United States policy in China was received here with enthusiasm, as the British interpret it as a virtual re-statement of their own policy, with the exception of the fact that the United States is not contented with the problem of having concessions to protect.

The British government, especially Kellogg's statement of Secretary Kellogg that foreign lives in China must be protected before the abrogation of the old treaties can be effected and new and equal treaties negotiated.

At a time when the British government is seeking to focus public attention on its diplomatic negotiations in China, rather than on the military preparations, the Kellogg statement comes as a supporting document.

"Mr. Kellogg has echoed the British demands," said the Evening Standard.

W. L. MORRAL RESIGNS AS TRUSTEE OF HOME

Sends Communication to Marion County Commissioners from Los Angeles

Resignation of W. L. Morral as a member of the board of trustees of the Marion County Children's Home, has been received by the County Commissioners. It was announced today.

While Mr. Morral gave no reason for his resignation in his letter to the commissioners, it is believed his absence from Marion for several months each year caused him to resign. The resignation was sent from Los Angeles, where he has spent the winter for the last four years, and where it is thought he may reside permanently.

On Third Term
This is Mr. Morral's third term as a member of the Children's Home board. He was appointed to succeed G. W. Walker, and at the expiration of his unexpired term, Mr. Morral was again appointed. His last appointment was in March, 1926.

Mr. Morral was one of the best members ever to serve on the board of trustees of the home. Michael Wadell, chairman of the board said today: "He gave more time to it than any other man who served before, and took a deep interest in the children."

The appointment of a new member of the board rests with the County Commissioners, and they were to meet today or Saturday morning to consider the appointment of a new member.

MOTORISTS PROTESTING GASOLINE TAX BOOST

Ohio Legislators Deluged by Barrage of Telegrams and Letters

Columbus, Jan. 27.—Legislators here today were deluged by a barrage of telegrams and letters from Ohio motorists in all sections of the state protesting against the proposed enactment of an amendment to the Brown Gasoline Tax Act, increasing the state tax to three cents per gallon. The existing rate is two cents.

It was reported that the proposed bill, introduced by members of the Ohio Good Roads Federation and Ohio Paving Brick Association, would be introduced next week. Organized opposition to the contemplated measure is being directed by officials of the Ohio Automobile Association. It was stated:

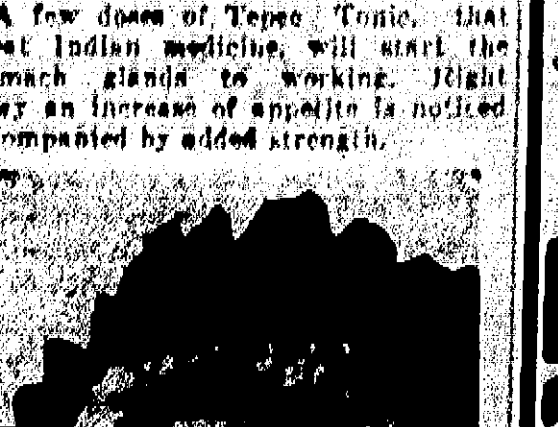

Advocates of the proposed bill estimated that it would provide an approximate annual increase of $4,000,000 in taxes available for road improvement and would facilitate the work of state officials and legislative leaders who are planning additional state revenues to be used to start a deficit in the state treasury.

REPORTED IMPROVING
Mrs. Martin Dawson, 891 Belmont, who underwent an operation last Thursday at City Hospital is reported to be improving today.

Take Little colds in hand

COLDS are the Nation's most costly and dangerous disease, and although scientists confess they do not know what causes them they do know:

- (1) A day's rest.
- (2) A laxative.
- (3) A light diet.
- (4) Vicks rubbed on throat and chest.

Vicks medicated vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the air passages. At the same time Vicks acts like a poultice.

Mothers cherish Vicks as a treatment for children's colds because, being externally applied, it cannot upset delicate digestions.

Talking about national characters, what has become of that great two-run man of the career, the Hon. William S. Hart?

What strikes us as another absolutely unnecessary measure at this time, at least, is the proposed Texas law to limit the pardoning power of the governor.

The elderly Mr. Browning may be something of a hoax, as she alleges, but it will have to be admitted that her own story shows that poor, innocent, little, 160-pound "Peaches" know an awful lot about love-making for a girl of fifteen.

What we hold against the European nations which owe us money is not that they owe us, but rather their outrageous duplicity in pretending to be friendly to us when borrowing money to make them hate us.

A Chicago university professor says romance is on the wane, from which our own contributor, Grove Patterson, infers that romance "is the chancelous and eternal possession of youth." Can it be that neither has ever looked up the definition of romance?

However, our ecclesiastical friends should get out the fact that this country doesn't propose to go into the League of Nations as an alternative of keeping out of war with Mexico.

New York City is trying to decide whether a play jury or a censorship would be the better for the purification of her stage with all the enthusiasm characterizing a conviction that neither of them is worth very much to accomplish the purpose alleged to be sought.

It has been so long since we saw our good friend, Representative Hill, dance, if we ever did, that we simply can't decide whether Ed has gone in for a general reform or simply is showing personal pique as a result of the present-day dances.

From his statement of the case, it's evident that the Kansas state senator who threatens to introduce a bill to forbid the making, selling, serving or owning of mince pies hasn't been eating the kind that grandmother used to bake.

Considering the fact that there is always a possibility of war, why wouldn't it be good business judgment for "Uncle Henry" Ford to preserve one or two of that job lot of ships he bought from the government and obviate the possibility of blowing in a lot of money for the chartering of another Oscar II.

That Fort Worth jury has found that the Rev. J. Frank Norris, of Austin, who shot and killed D. E. Chipps, was not guilty of murder, but to be on the safe side it might be just as well should the reverend gentleman break himself of the habit of grabbing a gun every time he becomes a trifle vexed.

There's an old one to the effect that "the proof of the pudding is the eating thereof," and if you question the efficacy of "Thrifty" week, just compare what you have in the bank or the building and loan this week with what you had the week preceding "Thrifty" week.

The great British authority, Sir Robert Armstrong-Jones, writing in the Practitioner, says "cigar smoking in moderation is the most wholesome; or the least harmful, form of indulgence," from which we assume that the cigar-makers have done something to take that "deadly poison" out of the rice paper wrappings.

"Honesty Is the Best Policy."

The police department is due for commendation for the manner in which it has run down the youthful perpetrators of recent burglaries in the city. It is the business of the police authorities to run criminals down, of course. That is their job, but a lot of people work at jobs without result, while the local police are showing accomplishment.

The arrest of these young lawbreakers should bring home to youths inclined to commit crimes that they can not long hope to escape detection and arrest; that their sins will find them out; that burglary, theft and other offenses against the law do not pay. Some of them told the police that they had wanted spending money. What's the advantage of spending money if the getting of it is a dishonest way is going to put them in reformatories or reform farms where they can not use it?

Any lad who thinks he is sharp enough to commit crime and get away with it, has another guess coming. He can escape detection for a time—but only for a time, and he will not have a moment free from worry and apprehension from the time he resorts to crime until he is placed under arrest. This, when all is said, is the awful penalty which every criminal is forced to pay, be his crime great or small. Not a happy, care-free moment is possible to him. It is the canker in his life thought by day and the disturber of his dreams at night.

A volume was written by him who said: "Honesty is the best policy."

If There's a Way, Let's Do It.

We were very much pleased to read in our news columns, a day or two ago, that the proposed repaving of Center street from State street westward to the tracks of the Hocking Valley had not been abandoned as a possibility of the present year; that a survey of the members of the city council showed that all of them favored it, the only matter standing in the way being that of raising the fund necessary to meet the cost.

In addition to the repaving of the street over the stretch stated, the proposed improvement includes the widening of the street paving by thirteen feet from Oak street westward to the Hocking Valley tracks to make it conform to the width of the paving in the up-town business section, and that the entire matter may be given intelligent consideration, the city council has requested the city engineer to make an estimate of the cost of the much-needed improvement in order that it may know what the cost is liable to be and, if possible, devise some way of meeting it.

It would cause far less present outlay, of course, to repair the street just as it is, but ultimately that course would prove an expense. There can be no question, but what the widening of the paving would greatly assist in the movement of traffic. Center street is the only direct thoroughfare between the city's two chief business sections and the only direct course between the up-town business section and the union station. The traffic burden it has to bear is very forcefully illustrated by the present condition of the street paving, which is simply deplorable. It is an unnecessary hardship upon all forms of vehicles moved over it as well as upon those who use them. It is an eyesore to the entire city. It is bound to give an unfavorable first impression to all outsiders who may visit us. It not only slows up traffic, but, by driving traffic to Church street, places a greater traffic burden on that thoroughfare than it should bear. In other words, by our neglect to keep our street in repair we have ruined it and are now well on the way toward having ruined two. Every dollar expended on Center street now by just so much will prolong the parallel avenue to the south of it and thus do double duty.

Council members, it is true, can not do the impossible, but if there is any possible way in which Center street can be widened and repaved this year, as proposed, we very sincerely hope that they will find the way, and proceed to do it. Through a most unfortunate combination of circumstances, the reclaiming of what is left of the Center street paving has been permitted to go far too long. This it is only fair to say, has not been the result of the fault of council or our citizenship as a whole.

Who knows? The idea of going on a lecture tour may have occurred to Alonzo Scimpio McPherson when she was making that trek over the hot sands of that Mexican desert.

The way Senator Carter Glass sniffs at the idea that Colonel House was the master mind of the Wilson administration might almost lead one to the suspicion that he takes it as a personal affront.

"McAdoo Bestowed To Run Next Year," reads a headline. Just think of the agony the Hon. William Gibbs will have to undergo to turn a deaf ear to an appeal like that, provided he thinks that he has a ghost of a show to win!

Good Ground for Complaint.

A resident of the northern part of the city tells us that the well-rounded girls are now taking trips up and down the State street car line to reduce, figuring that the exercise enforced by a round trip is far more fruitful in taking off flesh than a week of morning rolls, since so popular for reducing purposes.

The North-Enders—an ex-county official, by the way—may have overdrawn the situation a bit, but there can be no question but what citizens of his section have good ground for complaint over the condition of the line mentioned. It probably can not be surpassed for ruggedness throughout the country. A trip over it is a real education in how bad a line may be. It is on a paved street and hence hasn't the embellishment of vegetation of the Tennessean trolley, made famous by the comic of that name, but otherwise we would judge it's supreme in its way.

The Columbus, Delaware and Marion Electric company manifests such care in otherwise keeping its property in excellent shape; it expends so much in improvements, to say nothing of expansion, that it is a mystery to us why its roadbed over this street should have been permitted to fall into the condition it has. Were the stretch in question not used as a connecting link between central and northern Ohio, we might conclude that the condition complained of by North-Enders to council presaged its abandonment, but under the circumstances we can hardly figure that. As it is, we can figure only that the C. D. & M. is utilizing it as the exception to prove the rule.

Vagrant Verse.

THE MOCKING BIRD.
 He didn't know much music
 When first he came along;
 An' all the birds were wonderin'
 Why he didn't sing a song.
 They primed their feathers in the sun,
 An' sung their sweetest notes;
 An' music just came on the run
 From all their pretty throats!
 But still that bird was silent
 In summer time an' fall;
 He just set still an' listened,
 An' he wouldn't sing at all!
 But one night when them songsters
 Was tired out an' still,
 An' the wind sighed down the valley
 An' went creepin' up the hill,
 When the stars was all a tremble
 In the dreamin' fields of blue,
 An' the daisy in the darkness
 Felt the fallin' of the dew—
 There came a sound o' melody
 No mortal ever heard o' before;
 An' all the birds seemed to shiver
 From the throat of one sweet bird!
 Then the other birds went sayin'
 In a hush o' joy an' thrill,
 For there wasn't a note in stammer
 When one bird could sing for all!

THE ROAD TO MANDALAY.

Problems of Teeth Modern Ones.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In one way and another we have learned a lot about prehistoric man. Even though he lived so long ago that no written records were made, we have learned out his secrets. In consequence we know much about his food and his personal habits. An archeologist, a man who delves into the past, has found in New Mexico a lot of bones and teeth. These are so well preserved that we can study them in spite of their 900 years of age. The dental experts say the structure of these ancient teeth is exactly the same as tooth structure is today. The savage of that day had no better physical foundation than we have. But where our teeth decay, his did not. According to the experts, examination shows that the ancients had almost no dental decay.

I recall the examination of a graduating class in New York City. There were sixty-nine girls in the class about to leave the grades and to enter high school. Just one girl had perfect teeth. The remaining sixty-eight had an average of sixteen dental defects—cavities or lost teeth.

A professor in Columbia university assisted in the examination of 35,000 young adults. Out of this great number only twenty had perfect teeth! Certainly something has changed mightily since savages lived in the Southwest 900 years ago. The refined food of today fails to scrape and cleanse the teeth as did the rough, hard and tough food of prehistoric man.

An eminent dentist has said: "My belief is that the amazing spread of dental decay—in the last century is due to two factors. The first is the refined nature of our food, and the second, and to my mind equally important, is the condition of our health."

There can be no doubt that ill health is certain to affect the teeth, just as it does all other organs. Without a good heart to send the blood in cleansing stream to every part of the body there can be no health. Without rich blood to supply nourishment there can be no teeth.

To have good teeth and to keep the teeth good there must be a foundation of general health. We must accept the truth of this statement.

Modern man is dependent too much on privileged food and what used to be called, "spoon vittles." We don't eat enough food which must be chewed vigorously, so that teeth and jaws are not depended upon as they were.

Too many of our foods are made from denatured materials. The husks and outer layers are removed. In consequence, the minerals which make for good bone and tooth structure are not supplied.

We must watch the teeth. They are essential to our comfort and our very lives. The better they are the better we are. Just as they depend on the health of the body, so do we depend for the health of the body on the condition and proper use of the teeth.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

W. E. B. Q.—Would it be wise to take a drug which will cause me to lose weight?
 A.—No. If you require medication for any purpose your doctor will prescribe for you.

C. W. Q.—What causes pain over the hip?
 A.—This may be due to gas in the bowels. Avoid constipation. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

M. H. Q.—Why do they install moist air circulating and ventilating systems in schools and theaters? Is it more healthful than hot water or steam?
 A.—This system is considered by many to be more healthful than hot water or steam.

J. O. B. Q.—What do you suggest for gaining weight?
 A.—Improve your general health and in this way you will not only gain in weight, but benefit your entire system including your nerves. For full particulars send self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1927.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the circulation is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. On what basis is a broadcasting charge usually made? T. S.
 A. On the estimated number of persons reached. Thus Station WYAT's charge in New York was estimated on an audience within a 100-mile radius. Statistics indicated about 1,000,000 receiving sets in this area, and the possible total audience is estimated at 5.6 listeners to a receiving set. Half the audience may not be listening, and half the listening audience may be listening to another program.

Q. Are immigrants at Ellis island treated as prisoners? D. T.
 A. Immigrants receive physical examination when detained at Ellis island and are kept in caged enclosures. Hospital conditions are reported to be very satisfactory and food adequate. We are informed that each immigrant is supplied with five blankets each night and that while there is some overcrowding, the general conditions are reported to be fair.

Q. Is it dangerous to clean with gasoline in the home even though there is no flame present? E. C. A.
 A. The bureau of standards says that two pieces of fabric rubbed together may produce a spark of fire which is known as static or frictional electricity. A spark as tiny as that made by rubbing a cat's back may set off the vapor from gasoline used as a cleaner.

Q. How long has Queen Marie, of Roumania, ruled? H. O.
 A. Marie became queen of Roumania on October 10, 1914.

Q. Who were Abraham Lincoln's school teachers? J. W.
 A. Lincoln's first teacher was Andrew Crawford; his second, a man, named Sweeney; his third, Abel W. Dorey.

Q. Are the pawnbrokers of Great Britain usually Jews? A. E. F.
 A. It is said that although Jews were the almost universal usurers or money-lenders during the middle ages, it is now very rare to find a Jewish pawnbroker in England.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

The level of political practice, local, state and national, is not high. In many states and localities it is probably as low as it has been in the history of our democracy. That does not mean it is a good idea for you to tell your fellows, ambitious men and ambitious women, to stay out of politics. Our democracy needs nothing so greatly as the development of leadership. It can succeed only in so far as it does develop leadership.

For all the present ills that beset the body and the mind, the motto of the ancient king pretty well answers everything: "This, too, shall pass away."

There is much encouraging talk about the increased span of life. But the fact that the average length of life is greater does not tell all the story. This improvement comes in the success which science has had in combat with the plagues which used to afflict mankind in wholesale attack. Several contagious diseases have practically disappeared. Also the spread of knowledge, by various agencies, as to the care of children has wonderfully reduced mortality.

But the fact remains that since 1900 the death rate from Bright's disease has increased fifteen per cent. and from heart trouble twenty-seven per cent. Men and women die of these diseases because of bad habits—habits of eating and working and loafing and dissipation. They die of these ailments because they go on intelligently about the business of daily living. Are you living carelessly, too fast, unintelligently?

Organized labor has been mainly responsible for the child labor laws, and for the minimum wage and eight-hour day for women. Organized labor has been mainly responsible for the high wages which have contributed greatly to the general prosperity. And organized labor has been mainly responsible for the acceptable working conditions now found in most factories.

Whatever the faults in organization, leadership and methods of the American Federation of Labor, now or in its past history, it has entirely justified itself because of these things that it has actually accomplished.

Who's Who and Why.

SENATOR JAMES A. REED.
 When James A. Reed was elected prosecuting attorney for Jackson county, Missouri, in 1898, he began an active political career that eventually brought him to the United States senate. During the two year term as prosecutor he obtained 255 convictions out of 267 cases tried, a record for the district. He then served two terms as mayor of Kansas City and entered the senate in 1911. Born at Mansfield, Ohio, November 9, 1861. Reed moved with his parents to Marion, Mo., where he was educated at Central high school. He always has been a bitter opponent of the League of Nations and the World Court. He is still serving his state as senator.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. MINTIRE.

New York, Jan. 27.—The best dancers in New York are found on the East Side. Scores of them have fitted out of cheaper dance halls to be featured in musical reviews. They have not the restraint of the aristocratic centers and they will dance wickedly.

George White and James Barton are conspicuous examples of East Side dancers. In other days the East Side dance was a "spite" with sweated young huskies and gum chewing ladies in plaid skirts doing their stuff.

The East Side is tonier today. In the gilt and mirrored dance palaces are the best orchestras to be found almost anywhere. The dinner packet is seldom seen, but the boys and girls come smartly clothed just the same.

No one is carried out feet up for getting say. The brass knuckles and blackjacks are no longer social implements on that side of the island. The crowds come to dance and not to talk and be admired. All the new and intricate steps come from here.

Dancing contests for prizes are nightly events. The couples pair off with grim determination to win and excellent sportsman ship is displayed. The orchestra leader is usually master of ceremonies and the process of elimination is done by an unobtrusive tap on the shoulder.

When the elimination simmers down to two or three couples the excitement is that of a ring bout. The contestants must display all their talent from the Black Bottom to the tango. The final decision is made by popular applause.

The losers congratulate the winners and some young factory girl carries home a Cinderella dream of the night with her prize. And a shipping clerk has a proud story to tell the boys next morning. It is pleasant diversion to watch them.

This has not been an auspicious season for men and women of the stage—especially those who play small character parts. Few know the touching anxiety and tragedies of those who drift day after day to the theatrical agencies. They arrive there with nothing to do and depart with a "If you hear anything—". No class of people are so uncompensated or hopeful in lean days. Few have the virtue of thrift and unemployment means skylight, gas-jetted rooms and a fare of cruller and coffee. Summer is on the wing and for those who have had no winter jobs the outlook is despairingly dreary. Yet there is no whining—somehow, somewhere the problem will be solved.

More supper clubs have closed and deputy sheriffs are peeping around the corner at a few others. The reason is simple—over production. Every bootlegger after a good week bought $25 worth of furniture, rented a cellar and expended the hoobery to pay four dollars for the privilege of hearing a sour jazz band.

Wealthy New Yorkers who tire of the marital yoke and desire quick unharassing are seeking in New York City, where the tariff is cheap and action speedy. One lady married one week is said to have received the necessary papers in three weeks and was married two months later.

A famous Broadway funeral parlor from which Valentino, Anna Held, Vernon castle and other celebrities were buried cost a million dollars. One notes on the window the words: "Paris, London, Berlin, Petrograd." — Copyright, 1927.

TALKS AT ASSEMBLY

Rev. S. P. George, Lancaster, addressed School Students

Rev. S. P. George, of Lancaster, addressed pupils of the Silver Street School Building at the regular assembly this morning. He chose his text from Luke 15:11-25. "For which of you intending to build a tower sitteth not down first and counteth the cost whether he hath sufficient to finish it?"

Rev. Mr. George presented the lesson of humility taught in the text and urged the boys and girls to complete their school life and thus complete the building of his life. "The boy or girl leaving school to work for a small sum has left his building incomplete," he said.

The beauty, progress and privileges of the United States were woven into an entertaining and instructive talk by Mr. George.

DELIVERS SERMON

Bucurus Minister Preaches at Forest Lawn Church

Rev. S. W. Young of Bucurus preached from the text "Whosoever will may come," at the week-night revival service held at 7:30 o'clock last night at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church. Rev. Young said in part: "The inner voice of conscience, says 'Come,' the collective voice of the church says 'Come,' let him that heareth say 'Come.'"

Miss Madge Cheeswood of Ault, Colo., entertained with a vocal selection, accompanied by the piano by Miss Anna Winters. The Sunday School orchestra also presented a musical program.

Rev. Clarence Geo. pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Delaware, will preach at the service to be held at the church tonight. A special song program will be given by the choir and a group of selections by the Osgood Male Quartet.

Rev. A. W. Swan, pastor of the church, reports increased interest and new conversions at each service saying: "This revival is the happiest experience of my ministry in this community."

PROTECT Your Doctor and Yourself

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

SAY "PHILLIPS" to your druggist, or you may not get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years.

Refuse imitations of genuine "Phillips"

25-cent and 50-cent bottles contain full directions and uses.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1874.

Gas Made Woman's Stomach Feel Hollow

"I had gas on the stomach and would wake up with a hollow feeling as if I had not eaten for days. Since taking Adierka, my appetite is good and nothing disagrees with me."—Mrs. Mary Noble.

Adierka is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Strain, a disease due to modern wars of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Unlike most medicine, Adierka acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowels, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adierka brings out, which may have been causing all your troubles. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, gas bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Doctors Prescribe Adierka

Dr. H. L. Shoup, New York: "Adierka, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Carl: "I prescribe Adierka with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to equal Adierka."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adierka, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adierka in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adierka will relieve you. At leading druggists, Adierka's Drug Store and other drug stores.—Adv.

The sale is being held on the anniversary of the birth of the late President McKinley, the war president, and is the first benefit sale to be held by members of the auxiliary. Workers will be on the streets in the business section about 10 o'clock and it is hoped a most sum will be netted for the cause.

Members of the auxiliary will hold their regular meeting Friday afternoon at the Community Home at which time officers for the coming year will be installed with Mrs. Carson B. Shetterly as installing officer.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's companion. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use Mother's Friend to keep her able and muscles and pliable—thus making the time and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Mendix, Gracewood, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with my babies and I think it is the greatest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is expelled naturally.

Don't limit on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Barbara Regulator Co., Dept. 1, Chicago, for two valuable booklets "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during pregnancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you how to take care of the new baby.

Write to know, "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Quarter, narrator of the tale is an American employed by a bank in Geneva. He starts for Geneva to see the headquarters of the League of Nations, stopping at a hotel between trains. He shares his room with another American who says he is a schoolmaster who has just disappeared. During the night, the schoolmaster disappears. Quarter arrives at Geneva finding the League is discussing the League of Nations. At the municipal hall, he sees a scout, flashily dressed Italian whom he had noticed at Dijon and elsewhere. He has a conversation with him and a conversation with a "waiter" under whose orders they all seem to go. Quarter picks up a bunch

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easy and cheaply made in home, but it beats them all for cough results.

Thousands of housewives have tried to save two-thirds of the cost usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is easy and cheap but it has no equal results. It gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours.

Get a ounce of Pinex from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle, add a pint granulated sugar syrup and a full pint of Pinex. If you prefer a colored honey, instead of sugar syrup, either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

Its quick soothing how quickly it penetrates through every air passage of the throat and lungs, soothes the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat and cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, croup, or whooping cough.

There is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norwegian pine extract and palatable guarana, known the world over for its beneficial effect on membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your dealer for "25 ounces of Pinex" with guarana. Guaranteed to give you satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

Bread and Butter and Granu-Lax

Give children laxative this new easy way. Granu-Lax is the finest tablet, blended with a gentle, but sure laxative. Then recrystallized. It tastes and looks exactly like granulated sugar. A spoonful of fruit, cereal, or bread and butter keeps children's bowels open in a natural way. No griping. No after effects. Granu-Lax was originated by a prominent physician and used in his practice for years. You can get it at any drug store, in family and hospital sizes. Costs but a few cents. Sugar Products Co., Not. Inc., Chicago.

of flowers thrown by a dancing girl, and finds a handkerchief among the stems. He uses it to bind up a cut finger and later sends it to the laundry.

Next day the stout Italian—Baldassare Marce—calls on him and demands the handkerchief. Quarter will give him no satisfaction and that afternoon he is kidnapped, made prisoner in a house outside the city and questioned by a Japanese. He escapes from the house only to fall into a well. He finds an outlet, swims through it and comes to a door which leads into a dungeon in which he finds the man who shared his room in Dijon a prisoner. Marce and a Japanese are with him. By a ruse the two Americans escape and go to the era where they appeal to the police for protection. The "schoolmaster" turns out to be a detective interested in unraveling the secrets of the illicit drug traffic for the American government, Claypole by name.

Next morning he tells Quarter he has gotten the police interested to the extent of issuing a warrant for the arrest of those responsible for their assault. He asks him to go to the laundry to get the handkerchief. Two detectives are to guard him. Quarter realizes he is being shadowed. He mails the real handkerchief to Claypole and takes another from the dungeon.

Quarter is captured by Marce and a girl, Patricia Smith, whom he had seen with Marce at Dijon. He gives them the handkerchief he took from the line. They take him to a house in the mountains of Switzerland. New read the exciting events that follow in this fascinating mystery story.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

Halfway across it was startled by a low moaning sound coming apparently from some region upstairs and ending in a paroxysm of hysterical laughter. I paused for a moment, but my companion did not even raise his head.

"Poor Alexis," she murmured. "Really, he is very trying, so early in the day, too."

"Tell Adolf," she went on in German to the manservant, "that he must really keep quiet in the afternoon."

The man grunted something, as he pulled aside a curtain, and I found myself in a large and bare furnished room. There were two or three chairs and a single beautiful oak table. The walls were white and on them hung two Japanese pictures, one of a Samurai with a drawn sword and a very fierce expression on his face, the other of the sacred mountain Fujiyama.

"Stay here a moment," commanded Patricia. "You won't be kept waiting long."

As soon as she had left the room, I crossed to the window, sat down in the window seat and looked out. Around the house was a bare level strip of coarse grass, but evidently with a garden, and beyond that a fringe of pines, hedges and tall birch trees. Beyond these again the ground sloped sharply up to the shoulder of what in other countries would be considered a considerable mountain, but which in Switzerland would merely be regarded as one of the local hills known by name only to the people of the region.

I must have waited, I suppose, about a quarter of an hour or twenty minutes when Patricia returned.

"I am sorry, Mr. Quarter," she said, "but the Center has suddenly had to leave for Holland on urgent business, and I am afraid you will have to wait until he returns. You will remain in this house, of course, and I expect you will be rather bored, but we will do our best to make you comfortable."

"Who is the Center?" I asked. "And how long is he likely to be away?"

"I think you have already met him," she replied. "As for his absence, I do not think he will be away for more than two days."

She paused a moment and then, taking a step nearer me, she added, "Mr. Quarter, will you give me your word not to escape?"

She shrugged her shoulders. "As you will. But I think it is rather foolish of you. It means that I shall have to look you up in the padded room, that's all. I think you will find it difficult to escape from that."

She turned and left the room, coming back a few moments later with the butter and two Japanese servants. "Kindly follow these men," she ordered. "And please don't make a fuss. Our servants are armed, and resistance is useless."

There was nothing for it but to do as she said.

I followed the butler's broad back, and the two Japanese brought up the rear.

We ascended two flights of stairs, and presently I found myself in a corridor. I was about halfway down when I heard again the dreadful moaning which had greeted me on first entering the house, and it ended as before in a burst of hysterical laughter. I called to mind the comment Patricia had made and wondered idly who might be Alexis who was so strangely afflicted. Some poor devil, I thought, also in the hands of my captors.

At the end of the corridor we turned to the left and were immediately in front of a small door, which the butler opened, motioning me to enter.

I went in and found myself in what was evidently a bedroom, though there was no bed, only a low couch. I turned around to speak to the butler, but he was gone, and I heard the key turn in the lock as the door closed. I accordingly turned from the door and gave my attention to an examination of the "padded" room, as Patricia had called it.

There was no window, so far as I could see, and the walls were thickly padded with some form of imitation leather. There was a thick felt carpet and the couch I had remarked on entering constituted the sole piece of furniture. It was small and had a bolster attached.

Quicksands of Love

Madge and Lillian

Lillian started in a voluntary distaste of the request she had made of me. I had no violent dislike as well as an unaccountable dread of Mrs. Baker, the queer lodger on the fourth floor, that the thought of confronting her upon her return from the mysterious errand, which took her out each night, was a most repulsive one.

"Oh! I don't mean alone," Lillian said quickly, evidently reading my

LOAD LIMITS ON OHIO ROADS ARE TO BE REDUCED

New Ruling To Become Effective Jan. 31: Maximum Set at 7½ Tons

Load limits on state highways will be reduced from 10 tons to seven and one-half tons on Jan. 31. It was announced today by Division Engineer G. C. Snyder, of the State Highway Department.

After Jan. 31 the combined weight of truck and load permitted to travel on state roads will be seven and one-half tons. This is a 25 per cent reduction from the standard weight limit of 10 tons.

Posting Roads
Posting of the state roads by workmen of this division is now going on under the direction of Snyder. County and city officials have been notified of the change, so that all will have knowledge of the change when it goes into effect.

The weight limit order effective Jan. 31 does not effect the entire state. The territory south of the Harding-Lincoln Highway is affected by the order going into effect Jan. 31. Later the northern part of the state will be included in the ban on the weights of more than seven and one-half tons.

BISHOP ASKS CHANGE IN SUPERIORITY ATTITUDE

Prelate Laughs at U. S. "Bristling Up" at Smaller Nations

Columbus, Jan. 27.—A change in the attitude of "superiority" of Americans toward other nations was urged here in an address by Bishop Francis J. McConnell of Pittsburgh in an address before the Ohio Pastors' convention, which today was to hold its concluding session.

"Christianity has not yet gone so far that we have gotten rid of that feeling of superiority toward nearly all the nations of the world, and I am pleading for a change of that attitude," said the bishop. He deprecated the "dense, heavy" pronouncements from Washington, and declared it is "abundant for the United States to bristle up with bayonets the way we do when we think some small nation has insulted our flag or offended our dignity."

Our actions toward powerful nations, he said, are "entirely different."

Alfred Y. Cooper, president of the Ohio Council of Churches, voiced a plea for correction of the conditions which have resulted in abandonment of more than 407 Protestant churches in Ohio, due to "overchurching" communities.

COLD BLASTS AND ICE HAMPER RELIEF CREWS

Ohio River Stands at Stage of 58.95 Feet; Gas Still Low

Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—Hampered by near-zero blasts from the north, and by a sheet of thin ice which covered inundated areas here today, relief workers were laboring fruitlessly to reduce suffering in the flooded districts.

The Ohio River was standing at a stage of 58.95 feet this morning, but was predicted by United States Weather Forecast W. C. Breckenridge, to recede no later than this afternoon.

Gas supply still was wanting in scores of the flooded houses, it was reported, and many persons left their homes early today to seek warmth about huge bonfires that have been built at points near the water's edge.

Slight but no material changes have been made in the schedules of many trains running into this city, including the fast through trains over the Louisville & Nashville to Florida, it was announced today.

LODGE HEAD DIES

Eastern Star Official Succumbs in Ohio

Cincinnati, Jan. 27.—Further word concerning the death in China of Mrs. Clara Louise Heinrich, 34, most worthy grand matron of the General Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was anxiously awaited by her relatives and friends here today.

A cablegram received late yesterday from Shanghai by relatives here told of her succumbing to illness there while on a world tour in connection with the organization's interests.

Mrs. Heinrich held the highest possible office in the Eastern Star order, having been chosen most worthy grand matron of the General Grand Chapter during the Toronto convention last year. She is survived by her husband, Louis Heinrich, of near Cincinnati; a son, Lewis, professor of education in the University of California, and a daughter of Bataria, O.

ACCIDENTS ON HOCKING DROP 59 IN ONE YEAR

District Supervised by F. A. Sparks. Marion. Among Leaders in Few Mishaps

A decrease of 59 reportable accidents and 27 non-reportable accidents is the record established in 1926 over the record of the previous year in the maintenance of way department of the Hocking Valley Railroad, accidental statistics for two years show.

The report for which F. A. Sparks, district supervisor, was a leader among those to reduce the accidents, the record shows. Mr. Sparks has his office at the head yards and is supervisor of the work of the Hocking Valley which extends to Marietta.

1925 Record
In 1925 there were 43 reportable accidents in the district. Last year only 23 were reported. Thirty-three non-reportable accidents occurred in 1925 while in 1926 only 23 happened. The reportable accidents comprise those which cause loss of more than three days' labor while non-reportable accidents are those that cause three days or less loss of time.

One man was killed in this district during the year.

It is believed that the recent safety record of the Hocking Valley is due to the reduction in the number of accidents during the latter part of the year. The district reported an increase in mishaps and that increase was not slight.

Operate on Time
In spite of cold weather, high water, and the like in various parts of the district, all passenger trains through Marion were operated on schedule.

Objection of Frazier to Military Move Surprises

It's Never Too Early To Begin Agitation for Reform, Says North Dakotan

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Senator Frazier of North Dakota expressed it rather mildly, for him, when he asked congress, a few days ago, to voice its "opposition" to the presidential dispatch of soldiers or warships to Mexico, while the national legislature is in recess, without calling an extra session.

Last winter Senator Frazier proposed a constitutional amendment absolutely prohibiting war.

"Don't you mean when we have war?" I asked the senator, calling at his office to find out. "How are you going to prohibit some other country from starting one, and make it stick?"

"You never heard of a country admitting it was starting a war," rejoined Frazier. "They always fight defensively on both sides."

"But as a practical proposition," I urged, "what are you going to do if you're attacked?"

"No country," insisted the North Dakotan, "could possibly attack another country that already had prohibited itself from fighting back. It's unthinkable."

THIS really out-pacified the pacifists, the way congress looked at it. How Frazier can be satisfied now with just a little gentle "opposition" to any warlike move on the president's part, without congressional approval, quite a few of his fellow senators say they can't see.

From some of the North Dakota senator's friends, however, comes the hint that his war prohibition move was only a gesture—he honestly meant it but didn't actually expect it would "take" so acute, they say he's reaching out for as much as he genuinely thinks there's a chance he may get.

Frazier, he it remarked, doesn't admit there was any empty posturing about his war prohibition amendment. He says it was the real thing. It's never too early, he adds, to begin to agitate for reform.

THOUGH Frazier, perhaps, is a trifle more advanced than most, there are quite a few members of congress who confess they hate to quit and go home in March, with the Mexican outlook so uncertain.

Arbitration talks in the air at the moment but Mexico, off and on, has been a worrisome subject too long for anyone to feel easy over anything short of a definite settlement of their differences between the Coolidge and Calles governments.

Congress, as a whole, has been chary of finding fault with Secretary Kellogg's "firm policy" toward the regime south of the Rio Grande. Still, a good many hints have come from Capitol Hill that the legislature thinks it would be a good idea for the state department to watch its step. The senate foreign relations committee, by a big majority, has been particularly urgent as to the advantage of negotiating over force.

When he is pushed to yield a trifle. But when congress adjourns, it's been noticed that he stays firm all the time.

Frazier's latest resolution stands little chance of adoption. He's an insurgent and the regulars of both parties couldn't afford to let him get away with such a thing.

The Lovely Paris Girls
Try what they use

By Edna Wallace Hopper
I have made 25 trips to Paris in my quest for beauty. I go there as regularly for beauty aids as dress-makers go for styles.

Every year I find girls prettier, younger, and I bring back for myself and you the latest ideas and helps. All Edna Wallace Hopper's beauty aids, supplied by toilet counters, are kept up to date. I want them the best in existence.

My Youth Cream is one of them. It is more than a face cream. Several great complexion aids are embodied in it, including products of lemon and strawberry, and other important factors.

Youth Cream comes in two types—cold cream and vanishing. I use one at night, the other in the morning. Never is my skin without this cream to foster and protect it. My complexion at which millions marvel is largely due to that.

Please learn what my Youth Cream does. It will bring you an entirely new conception of face cream. Ask at any toilet counter for Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream. Jar, 60c; tubes, 45c.

Dairies Defeat Eries in Thrilling Cage Battle

MARION CAGERS SHOVELS PLAY MILLARDS HERE TONIGHT

AVENGE DEFEAT; SCORE IS 33-28

Largest Crowd of Season Sees Isaly Quintet Triumph

BY EDDIE SCHOENLEIN
Sports Editor, The Star

Daily Dairy basketball team last night avenged the defeat suffered here three weeks ago at the hands of the Huntington Indiana Eries. Performing magnificently before the largest crowd to fill the Star Auditorium for any game so far this season, the Dairies triumphed over the Eries, 33 to 28, in a battle featured by the lightning shift of both teams.

The game was probably the best all-around game in which the Dairy team has participated this year. Smooth passing and floor work, together with splendid basket shooting, thrilled the thousands of cage fans who gathered to witness the second battle of the season between the two quintets.

It was nip and tuck all the way with Techau leading the fray out of the line in the last four minutes when he clinched the tilt for Isaly by dropping in two field goals and a couple of free throws. The score was 27 to 22 with Dairies leading when Techau went into the skirmish for Phillips but local fans did not feel safe until the extra counters were marked up.

Play Great Game
The diminutive visiting cagers demonstrated their ability in the cage from early in the fray and continued the exhibition until the last minute, although the score looked rather discouraging towards the close of the contest.

The half ended 14 to 9 with the Dairies on top but we didn't see anybody making wild bets as to who would win the game. The locals were leading but no one was certain how long they would be out in front. Both teams were playing the same type of excellent basketball and a few points difference either way did not tend to create great confidence.

Some Thing
Speeding along in much the same fashion in the second half, the two floor machines continued to operate with little faltering. The Dairies, however, never relinquished their lead.

In the final minute, when everything looked rosy for the locals and the score favored them by a margin of 11 points, the visitors pulled the spectacular and brought the tilt to a thrilling close.

The diminutive tow-headed Smith, attler, Erie forward, looped one through the hoop from a position directly under the basket. Coast, the other forward, took his turn and counted two more points. To help matters, someone fouled Kicker at center and he dropped in a couple of free throws. It all happened in 40 seconds but 15 seconds later the gun cracked for the grand finale. Dairies were still leading.

Smith and Coast did most of the work for the Dairies. Kreighbaugh, who starred here in the previous game, was not on hand last night, and supporters of the visitors claim that there might have been a difference in the score had that gentleman arrived.

There were no individual stars on the local crew. All played a great game and displayed team work rather than individual playing. Bruce Robbins, playing his first game with the Dairies since the holidays, caged three field goals and a free throw.

Midways Win
In the preliminary event, Midways continued their winning streak by trouncing the Howitzer team, 22 to 11. The Midways have not lost a home game this season.

Only Two Marion County High School Cage Teams To Be Idle Friday Night

Prospect and Kirkpatrick Have No League Games Scheduled; Caledonia and Waldo To Clash on Caledonia Floor; Martel Will Play Pleasant Township Boys

Only two Marion County high school basketball teams will be idle Friday night in the east and west county leagues. Kirkpatrick boys and girls have no league game scheduled in the east section and Prospect will not participate in a game in the west section.

The Caledonia-Waldo clash in the east section promises to be the most interesting and by far the most important league game of the week-end.

Caledonia boys are leading the east league but if Waldo has anything to say about it, they will no longer be in that position after Friday night. Waldo boys, after getting away to a bad start with a couple of defeats, have staged a great comeback since the holidays and taken two games with ease.

On Equal Terms
A comparison of the strength of the two teams may be had as a result of the games with Pleasant Township. Two weeks ago, Waldo boys gave Pleasant a trouncing to the tune of 27 to 10 while the Caledonia lads defeated their southern neighbors only 16 to 7. The Caledonia game, however, was played on the Pleasant gym while the Waldo battle was waged on the Waldo court. This fact may be responsible for the difference in score.

At any rate, the two teams are evenly matched and any edge that Waldo should have is knocked off by the fact that the game is to be played at Caledonia and the Caledonia quintet will have the advantage of the use of its home court. Caledonia girls, although giving the services of their center, Freda Holland, should be able to hand the Waldo girls a defeat. Waldo girls have not won a game this year.

Martel vs. Pleasant
Martel boys and Pleasant girls should have a great time on the Pleasant Township gym court Friday night when they tie up with the Pleasant basketball team. Martel boys should win and Pleasant girls will likely lose another contest.

Martel boys are tied for first place with Caledonia in the east section with three victories and no defeats. Pleasant Township boys have not won a tilt this season. Martel is a classy outfit and is making a strong bid for the title in the east league.

May Head League
Should Martel boys win, which they are almost certain to do, and Caledonia boys lose, which is far from certain, Martel will be on top of the league. If the tables are turned the other way, Caledonia will be in full possession of the leading position.

Green Camp boys will endeavor to make it five straight victories Friday night in the west section when they face the leading Moral Quintet. Green Camp is leading the league and Moral is in the cellar. The game will be played at Moral which will make it just a little worse for the Moral boys.

The Moral-Green Camp girls' tilt promises to be one of the best battles of the season in the feminine league. Moral girls are looked to win, the easiest but will have a tough fight on their hands to turn the trick. Moral at present is leading the league. Green Camp is second. Moral has not been defeated while Green Camp has suffered two defeats.

Agosta vs. LaRue
And next come the Agosta and LaRue games. Agosta has no girls' team so there will be no argument on that side but the boys' fray will be all that counts. Agosta is a classy outfit and is making a strong bid for the title in the west league. Agosta has won one game and lost one while Agosta has suffered two defeats while winning one skirmish. Should Agosta win tonight, it will slide into a tie with Prospect for second place.

A group of Star and Y-M club bowlers defeated representatives of the Marion Business Women's Club in three games last night. The total score was 2,015 to 1,830. The score of the first game was 630 to 502, the second tilt ended 704 to 594, and the third was 685 to 681.

The Business Women held their regular bowling session on the Y. M. C. A. alley Wednesday night. Sautter's team took two games from Porter's outfit. Blum and Hammer divided a double bill, and Oberlander and Slagle shared honors.

STUBB BAUER III.
Chicago, Jan. 27—Stubb Bauer, holder of all world's records for women's back stroke swimming, was fighting for her life, Tuesday in a Chicago hospital. Miss Bauer, whose wedding to Edward Sullivan, New York newspaper man, is scheduled to take place in June, is suffering from an intestinal disorder, and has been in the hospital since December, when she underwent an operation, it was learned Tuesday.

EMMANUEL WINS
Oakland, Cal., Jan. 27—Armand EMMANUEL, Jewish heavyweight, easily defeated Jack Hensley in six rounds here last night. The San Francisco fighter took five of the rounds and the other one was even.

THREE GAMES PLAYED IN NEW VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

Teams Captained by Coulter, Brown and Clark Win Contests

Volleyball teams captained by Coulter, Brown and Murphy were winners in the second round of the national league formed among the Business Men last night. The games were played on the Y. M. C. A. gym floors.

Coulter's team defeated Clark's outfit 30 to 20 and Brown's crew took a fall out of Cunningham's volleyballers, 35 to 20 on the upper floor. Murphy defeated Hildebrandt 41 to 26 on the lower floor.

The new league formed two weeks ago after Bob Stief's men won the regular matches in the Business Men's League is composed of six teams only. Games next week on the upper floor of the Y. M. C. A. will feature a clash between Murphy and Cunningham and Hildebrandt and Coulter.

Quits will meet Clark's men on the lower floor. Wylie, Rudolph, and Coulter acted as referees in the games last night.

FOUR-YEAR GRID MENU FOR BIG TEN ANNOUNCED

Schedules Drawn Up at Secret Conference of Athletic Directors

Chicago, Jan. 27—Western Conference football schedules for the next four years were drawn up at a secret conference of Big Ten athletic directors here last Saturday, it became known today.

The schedule for 1927, adopted at the November meeting of coaches and directors, will not be changed, it was announced. The directors who attended the secret pow-wow Saturday were: draw up an additional schedule covering the following three years.

This was done at the suggestion of nine Big Ten University presidents, it was stated, who expressed the opinion that an extended schedule would solve the problem of equalizing competition. The new schedule arrangement is based on rotation and does away with the old round-robin system.

Harding High Quintet Will Play Delaware in Initial N. C. O. Home Game Friday

Hopes To Break Up Losing Streak Here, with Victory Over Strong Delaware Outfit; Evans Still Plays with Delaware, but Mills Is Ineligible; Both Teams Have Lost Two

Harding High cagers will play their first North Central Ohio League home game Friday night in the Star Auditorium when they tie up with the strong Delaware quintet.

Harding has lost two N. C. O. League games during the last two weeks. The first defeat came at the hands of Mansfield on the Richland County court and the second downfall was recorded last Friday at Bucyrus. The game Friday will be the third N. C. O. League battle of the season.

Incidentally, Delaware High has also lost two league games so far this season. Its first contest went to Ashland on Ashland's floor by a margin of 10 points and last week Mansfield won at Delaware, 15 to 12, one of the greatest cage games of the season.

Considered Leaders
But, although each team has lost two games so far this season, Harding and Delaware are considered two of the strongest opponents in the league race.

Delaware's are happy to be the two-headed giant called Evans, who has been seen in a Delaware High School basketball suit for at least four years. He is well remembered by ardent fans of Harding High. Mills, another star, has been declared ineligible. He was ineligible at the time of the Mansfield game last week, however, and the Delaware County lads did not even seem to miss him.

To Settle Argument
Harding High has a little argument that it hopes to settle Friday night. Last year, equipped with a team that should have gone into the semi-finals of the Delaware tourney, Harding High confidently strutted out for battle with Delaware in the first game of the tournament. Forty-five minutes later, members of the local team were packing up for home, not the least bit interested in the outcome of the tournament. They had been defeated by a team that they considered way below their par.

Friday night will mark the first meeting of the two teams since that miserable defeat and the Marionites will have a chance to avenge the grievance.

Harding High, as has been said before, has the best second half basketball team in the N. C. O. League but that has not won any league games so far this season. The local lads had an attack of stage fright at Mansfield and

LOCAL QUINTET TO CLASH WITH FAST OHIO FIVE

Springfield Clothiers Equipped with Wittenberg Cage Stars

Tonight the stellar Steam Shovel basketball team again takes the floor. This week it will oppose the Millard's Clothiers of Springfield, the first outfit from Ohio, outfit to appear in Marion County. The visitors will bring with them a host of Springfield High School and Wittenberg College stars.

The Clothiers rank as the best team in Springfield and have eight consecutive victories to their credit so far this season. The Shovels are fast because one of the leading teams in the northern and central section of Ohio and have a number of victories to their record also.

LeRoy Maxton is the leader of the Springfield five while Dady Compton has been acting as captain of the local aggregation. Marion plays guard and is the best scoring ace in Springfield. Compton, who hails from Springfield, and is now coaching Harding High, is also a guard and does enough scoring to rank with many forwards.

Clothiers Are Lively
The Clothiers, in previous games, have been noted for the lively pace they set and keep during a contest. The Shovels, however, have also shown that they can get a fast pace and keep it up during a game. Last week they defeated the Buffalo Lincolns in the first half.

The quintets are evenly matched in almost every respect. The Shovels have defeated several leading teams in the country while the Springfield five has met the best that southern Ohio has to offer and has won. What the outcome will be is a matter of conjecture.

Preliminary Event
A preliminary event is scheduled for 7 o'clock with the main game getting under way at 8:15 o'clock.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS
At Kalamazoo, Mich.—Jackie Mave of New Jersey knocked out Carl Metoquah of Toledo, O., in the fourth round.

MARION VOLLEYBALLERS
WILL PLAY LIMA FRIDAYrepresentative Teams Meets
First Opponent on Local Court

Marion's representative volleyball team will play its first game on the M. C. A. floor, Friday night, when it meets Lima. The team was selected by Coach John Clark.

The volleyballers have been practicing every Tuesday and Thursday nights for some time and are well organized and prepared for the first tilt. They will hold their last practice session on Wednesday night.

The team this year is composed of the same personnel that actually won the Ohio State volleyball championship last season, with Charles Smith as captain. During the last two months, members of the representative team played in the Marion Men's Volleyball League and received additional practice. Two who are the Business Men's league are broken up and now 14 of the players are on the representative team.

The team has been coached by F. O. Smith, physical instructor of the M. C. A. Mr. Smith was coach of the team last year. The local team won a victory in the first game of the season, although the opposing crew has participated in many regular matches so far this season.

Those who are on the local squad are Captain Charles Smith, Bob Smith, Victor, L. C. Stang, E. G. Sie, Roy Rice, B. K. Hill, George George Doering, Ted Biddle, Fred Powell, Roy Waddell, Russell and Charles Evans.

MAN INJURED WHEN BIG FOUR TRAIN HITS CAR

Complete Recovery of Kenneth Grooms, St. James, Expected at Gallon

Gallon, Jan. 27.—Kenneth Grooms is a patient at the Good Samaritan hospital suffering from painful injuries which he received yesterday afternoon, when a fast Big Four passenger train struck the car which he was driving.

The accident occurred at 5:20 o'clock at the St. James crossing. Grooms was returning from Iowa where he had been on business. He was intent upon controlling his car on the icy roads and failed to notice the approach of the train. The train struck the car, an Oldsmobile sedan, squarely, and demolished it completely.

Grooms was thrown clear of the wreckage, miraculously escaping death or more serious injury. His head and face were badly cut and he was picked up by trainmen who brought him immediately to Gallon where he was given medical attention. His condition last night was greatly improved and a complete recovery is anticipated.

Upper Sandusky Masons to Stage Their Third Annual Minstrel Show Feb. 10-11

Production Will Be Presented Under Direction of Warpole Lodge, No. 176, F. & A. M.; E. R. Houser To Act as Interlocutor

Upper Sandusky, Jan. 27.—The third annual Masonic minstrel show will be staged at the Masonic Temple Thursday and Friday nights, Feb. 10 and 11, under the supervision of Warpole Lodge No. 176 F. & A. M.

First rehearsals were conducted last night and the minstrel shows promise of excellent shows of other years all of which have been marked successes. Due to the limited seating capacity of the temple only Masons and their families will be allotted tickets.

The program shows special solos with the ensemble chorus and the leads of the black face and men, specialty acts, short plays and dancing and singing by a girl's chorus.

Ensemble List
E. R. Houser will act as interlocutor with the following men in the ensemble: C. C. Kall, C. B. Garner, Paul Zachary, Harold Culver, Thomas Frater, David Dellinger, Adam Hagen, and Howard Hanger.

MARYSVILLE HI DEFEATS PROSPECT FIVE, 29-10

Johnson Held to One Field Goal and Free Throw

Prospect High School cagers suffered one of the worst defeats of the season on their home floor last night when Marysville High handed them a 29 to 10 trouncing. Coach Klugebauer of Marysville used all his second stringers in the last few minutes.

Prospect managed to connect for only six points in the first half while Marysville scored 16 markers. In the second half, the Marion County boys showed a little more ambition and brought their total to 18 counters. Johnson, Prospect's star center was held to a single field goal and free throw. Stricker of Marysville dropped in six buckets.

ASSOCIATION OF TEACHERS AND PARENTS MEETS

Prospect, Jan. 27.—Meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held in the High School Auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. C. H. S. Kunkler gave the invocation and conducted the installation of the new officers, who are Mrs. M. S. Isler, president; Prof. L. B. Brown, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Collier, second vice president; Mrs. William Kunkler, secretary; and Mrs. Edna Griffith, treasurer. The old officers were called to the front also, and given words of commendation.

With the new president in the chair, the business of the body was then taken up. The minutes were read by the new secretary, Mrs. Kunkler. Mrs. Isler then announced the new committee, as follows: Trustees, Mrs. Edna Griffith, Mrs. George Thomas, Mrs. F. D. Isler, Mrs. C. P. Herr and Mrs. Lawrence Fleming; advisory committee, Miss Hoot Hoot, Mrs. Charles Schickel and Mrs. Harry Ludwig; press committee, Miss Anna Wells and Miss Mary Ann Foster.

The program was then opened with a violin trio by Naomi Brown, Betty Griffith and Dorothy Lauer, which was directed by Miss Pauline Wyatt. Miss Evelyn Pace talked on the subject, "Are the Children To Blame?" which she gave Tuesday night at the extemporaneous speaking contest, held at Marietta where she won second honors. A demonstration by the physical education class, under the direction of Miss Anna Saum, was then enjoyed. Those taking part in this demonstration were of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

A round table discussion on the subject, "Scholarship in our School; How Can It Be Improved?" The talks were "Home Work" by Mrs. W. H. Davids; "Social Activities" by Mrs. Eugene Kimmel; "Grade Cards" by Miss Elizabeth Beam; "Health and the Part It Plays in Keeping Up the Scholarship," by Mrs. Marian Flint; "Outside Activities" by Mrs. C. B. Harter; County Superintendent C. B. Harter gave a fine talk on "Scholarship." Miss Ruth Hecker announced the appointment of grade assistants: first grade, Mrs. Gerald Roberts; second, Mrs. George Thomas; third, Mrs. John Stiles; fourth, Mrs. Harry Mounts; fifth, Mrs. Rudolph Stuckey; sixth, Mrs. Harry Ludwig; seventh, Mrs. James Brown; eighth, Mrs. Eugene Kimmel; ninth, Mrs. Charles Schickel; tenth, Mrs. H. L. Clark; eleventh, Mrs. R. C. Windhorst; twelfth, Mrs. F. D. Isler.

The president appointed Miss Elizabeth Beam, Miss Pauline Wyatt, Mrs. R. C. Windhorst, Mrs. L. M. Harmon and Mrs. Paul Miller as program committee for the next meeting which will be held the fourth Thursday night in February. Banners for parent attendance were awarded the third grade and the sophomores. After a few remarks by Prof. L. B. Brown, the meeting was adjourned.

Kenton Central Shops Win from Bucyrus Aggregation

Kenton, Jan. 27.—Scoring more than enough points to defeat the visitors from Bucyrus, the Kenton Central team have been able to run up big scores in the Bucyrus aggregation. The New York Central team scored in the Bucyrus aggregation, and in some instances scores of 20 to 1.

Contests played during the past several weeks show that the local shopmen are really getting into shape. They had some trouble the first of the year getting together and now with the right combination having been found are showing some real basketball.

From indications now the locals will have one of the strongest teams in the Bucyrus aggregation. The Bucyrus team, which will give a good account of themselves in the journey that is less than a month distant.

In spite of the fact that Gonk was able to defeat the visitors with his own scoring his teammates came across with a enough points to win the game. However scored six while Gonk and Carter accounted for five points apiece.

While the New York Central were giving Bucyrus a crushing thrashing the Virgo high school outclassed the Parochial five by a score of 43 to 11.

PLAINTIFF RESTS

20 Witnesses Called by Prosecution in Kenton Damage Suit

Kenton, Jan. 27.—Plaintiff in the $10,000 damage case of Mrs. Marie Lantz, W. Frankinat, against the Farmers Union Stock Yard which opened in the court of Hardin County Common Pleas Monday, rested its case Wednesday after examining more than 20 witnesses.

Five defense witnesses had testified when court adjourned late yesterday. There is a possibility that the case will not be given to the jury until sometime Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Lantz is seeking damages alleging that the noise and odor from the Stock Yards has damaged her health and property.

TWO SECTIONS OF ROAD ARE ALREADY PAVED

Union County's Program Highway Improvement Rapidly Nearing Completion

Marysville, Jan. 27.—Plans have been completed by the State Highway department for the completion of the Marysville-Kenton road.

Sections already improved consist of a strip four miles north of Marysville and the section between Bybala and Kenton. The plans call for letting contracts for the entire balance of the distance, which will be let in separate contracts. Headquarters for the construction company may be established at the Erie crossing of the road north of Broadway, from where place construction work will be done on both north and south.

The completion of the Marysville-Kenton road will mean that the program for the construction in inter-county roads will have largely been completed in Union County. Only short parts of the Springfield and Urbana roads at the Springfield and Urbana roads at all of the London road from Marysville will remain to be completed on the program. Work was started on the Marysville-London road last fall and will be carried on during the coming summer. After these roads are completed they will be maintained by state money and the county can then use its money for the developing of strictly county roads.

FARM HOME NEAR GALLON IS BURNED TO GROUND

Furnishings and Personal Effects on Lower Floor Are Saved

Gallon, Jan. 27.—A disastrous fire caused by a defective chimney flue, occurred early yesterday afternoon at the country home of Mr. and Y. George Vanderkooi burned to ground. The home, a frame structure in good condition, was located several miles north of Gallon at the intersection of the Market and Broad streets. The fire spread so rapidly that efforts to save the building were in vain. Although heavy property loss is suffered, furnishings and personal effects from the lower floor were saved.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUD MORTIMER LEWIS

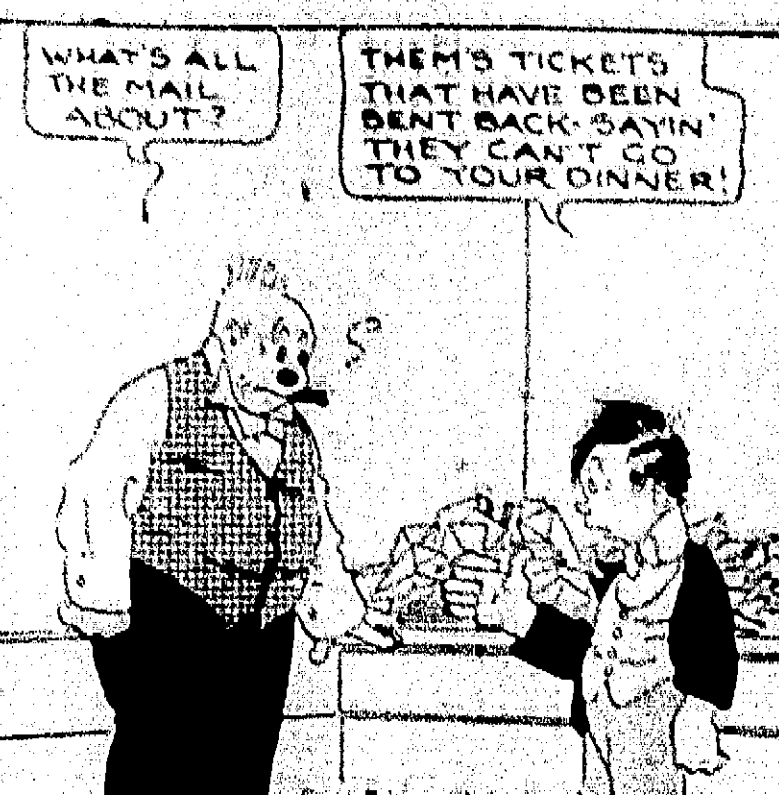

Tomorrow is Friday and then Saturday and Sunday, and then school again. I do not worry about that. A fellow might die on Sunday night and never go to school any more, and then he would have all of his worrying for nothing.

It was colder than it was but not as cold as it might be when me and Jubilee went up this morning. Just cold enough so the snow that is sticky doesn't freeze and there don't any more snow melt. Before I went to bed last night I put on my stockings on his hind feet and my mittens on his front feet to keep him from getting the bed all dirty.

I told the bunch this morning that I would be nice if we all had long ones for Valentine's day, and they took the old collar and bawled off the griddle and pulled it out in the middle of the empty stall, and one of them turned it while the others backed up and stooped over and held their pants against it, and they were all very pretty this morning. He wears his father's cast-off pants he has always got longies.

It was my turn to back up to it when I got done milking, and Nibs was turning her around like a pinwheel, and I

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

Outside of Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump hut, on a cold winter day, when the snow flakes were flying like white feathers in the air, was heard a joyful sound.

"Hark!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzz, who was giving the breakfast dishes their morning bath. "I hear music!"

"It's singing!" said Mrs. Longears, who was chasing some specks of dust from the piano.

"It must be a bird!" joyfully cried Uncle Wiggily who was just getting ready to go adventuring, now that the bunny children had gone to school.

"It's a bird," blurted out Spring, who would have skipped out come the storm without his hat, but he was so cold, so eager was he to see, as he thought, the first bird of spring, had not his wife held him back.

"Where are you going?" asked the rabbit lady.

"To get that bird," answered the bunny gentleman. "It is a spring bird and will freeze in the storm."

"Then put on your hat!" said Nurse Jane and she and Mrs. Longears made Uncle Wiggily do this. Out leaped the bunny into the snow, and the joyful voices grew louder. But when he was out in the open Uncle Wiggily knew they were not made by a singing bird.

"It sounds like a band organ," said Mr. Longears.

"It is a band organ," spoke a sad little voice down near the front steps, and Uncle Wiggily, who was almost frozen, crawling in, said, "Oh, I didn't know it was so cold in the snow. Bur-r-r-r!" and some teeth chattered and the sound of shivering was heard.

Uncle Wiggily looked over the stoop railing and there down in the snow, he saw a little monkey boy with a small hand organ which he was slowly striding, thereby making worse cease music.

"By Jacko Kinkytail. Come right in out of the cold!" called Uncle Wiggily. "What sort of a trick are you playing?"

"I'm not playing a trick-I'm playing a band organ," answered the monkey boy. "And, besides, my name isn't Jacko Kinkytail. My name is Grabbie Abbie. I'm a monkey all right, but I'm called Grabbie Abbie."

"Well, come in and get warm, Grabbie Abbie, or who ever you are," said Uncle Wiggily. "But why have you such a queer name?" he asked as Nurse

Don't Risk Pneumonia By Neglecting a Cold

If you have a cough or cold, don't neglect it during this pneumonia weather. A cough or cold weakens your resistance. If you let it "go down" into your chest it always causes congestion in your bronchial tubes—and these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

If you get pneumonia, call a doctor immediately. But if you have a threatening cold or cough—even whooping-cough—Cherry Pectoral can stop it before inflammation goes down into the "danger zone."

Quickly and unflinchingly Cherry Pectoral goes straight to the seat of trouble. Real medicine, reaching deep with its healing power, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

Indications are Donahay-Senate Warfare Renewed

APPOINTMENTS ARE SUBJECT OF PRESENT ISSUE

Brief Truce Dating from Jan. 3 at End in Four-Year-Old Feud

Columbus, Jan. 27.—There was every indication today at the state capital that the four-year-old warfare between Democratic Governor Donahay and the Republican Ohio Senate had flared into being again, after a brief truce dating from the opening of the Eighty-Seventh Session of the Legislature Jan. 3.

Donahay Standing Pat
Governor Donahay stood pat on his decision not to send any more appointments to the senate for confirmation until the Republican senatorial majority either confirms or rejects the governor's recent appointments of Wellington T. Leonard, Mansfield, Republican, to a six-year term as a member of the state industrial commission.

Republican leaders in the senate, on the other hand, indicated that they do not intend to alter their decision to "indiscreetly postpone" action on all appointments that the governor may make to six-year terms.

Senators today asserted that the governor should be satisfied with the decision of the Republican senatorial majority to confirm Donahay's Democratic appointments to two-year and four-year terms on these various commissions, thereby giving him control over them during the next two years.

Governor Donahay, however, insisted that the senate shall either reject, or confirm, his appointments in the order in which they are sent to the senate and, if rejected, the real reasons for such action should be announced.

Classification of state prisoners is proposed in a bill introduced by Senator Maude C. Walli, Cuyahoga County, pending in the senate today. The bill, recommended by the special joint legislative committee on prison reform, would classify these prisoners in five groups, chronic, subnormal (feeble-minded), insane, abnormal (psychopathic), and casual.

Among other new bills pending in the legislature here today are:

In the senate:
By Senator L. G. Collister, Cleveland, providing for licensing all auto drivers.

On Workmen's Compensation
By Senator C. H. Hullman, Cincinnati, directing that workmen's compensation shall be allowed from the date of injury, except in cases where the injury is caused within a week.

Provision, also, for appeal by a claimant whose allowance has been stopped.

By Senator Nettie B. Laubeck, Cincinnati, making garage owners responsible for property stolen from automobiles stored in their places.

By Senator George H. Bender, Cleveland, providing for a centralized purchasing agency for county offices.

By Senator W. A. Clark, Urbana, providing that "feudal" insurance companies may insure the lives of children from birth. Present law prohibits insuring children under one year of age.

Driving Prohibition

In the house:

By Rep. John H. Anderson, St. Clairsville, providing that an autoist convicted of driving while intoxicated may be prohibited from driving for a period ranging from one to ten years, and directing that a person violating such suspension order may be imprisoned in the penitentiary from one to five years.

By Rep. B. P. Vandeventer, Cincinnati, directing the state director of highways to remove the house in which Gen. U. S. Grant was born from the state fair grounds here to its original location at Point Pleasant, Ohio.

By Rep. Laurence Norton, Cleveland, auto drivers license bill similar to that introduced by Senator Collister.

Seeks Uniformity
By Rep. L. J. Able, Cleveland, providing for uniform exam statement of ownership and bills of sale for motor vehicles.

By Rep. Percy L. Green, Portage County, seeking to establish a demonstration forest under supervision of the state department of forestry, Wooster Experiment Station.

By Rep. M. J. Walther, Cleveland, requiring drivers of vehicles transporting explosives, or inflammable materials, to stop at railroad crossings. The bill was endorsed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

EVANGELISTIC SLAYER SEEKS BODY OF WIFE

Search of Authorities in Three Counties Taken Up Over Prairies

Mauston, Wis., Jan. 27.—With all the humility, piety and grace of a crusader, William N. Coffey, Wisconsin's evangelistic slayer, today planned to lead the authorities of three counties in the search for the scattered remains of his blameworthy bride, Mrs. Hattie Sherman Holm, over the snow-covered prairie, five miles northwest of Plattville, Wis., where he says he buried her on Oct. 30 of last year.

It is also expected that when District Attorney H. N. Orchard of Grant County arrives that Coffey will be formally charged with murder and turned over to the officers of that county where he claims the killing took place.

J. T. Dittmer, former assistant attorney general and law partner of District Attorney Robert P. Clark who is assisting in the case, still is convinced that the latest addition to Coffey's confession made yesterday does not constitute all of the truth concerning the actual slaying of the prepossessing widow from LaCrosse. "They discrepancies in Coffey's confession stand out like the red thumb which he talks about having received in the death struggle," he said. "Mrs. Holm met her death through no accidental scuffle for a baseball bat. It was a deliberately planned murder with money as its motive and I am sure he has switched the location from Iowa to Wisconsin in order to escape the death penalty."

REIGEL WOULD BETTER PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN OHIO

Legislators Considering State Directors' Suggestions Regarding Education Laws

Columbus, Jan. 27.—Ohio legislators today had under consideration suggestions voiced by Vernon M. Reigel, state director of education, for improving conditions in the public schools throughout the Buckeye state.

Charging that school teachers do not know the subjects they teach, Reigel declared that the action of Ohio legislators in abolishing the Maxwell law, which provided for examining grammar grade pupils applying for entrance to high schools, was responsible for poorer teachers.

Abolition of teachers' examination, according to Reigel, is responsible, in part, at least, for present conditions.

Reigel also declared that teachers' life certificates, given to any who teach for two out of four years, are too easy to get; that teachers should stick to method of teaching rather than fundamentals of subjects; that poor teachers should be weeded out after they have started their normal training; that the proposal to test only the lower third of the class entering a college or university "is ridiculous"; and that grading of examination papers is not uniform, the test papers of one pupil, when graded by 142 teachers, received grades ranging from 50 to 98 per cent.

OBITUARY

Harriett Lucinda Cledene, daughter of Alma and Sarah (Underwood) Smith was born at Piquette, Morrow Co., Ohio on July 15, 1843 and died of complications of disease after a three years illness at the home of her son, Lester Cledene, 128 Harbart-st. on Monday, January 17, 1927 at the age of 83 years and 6 months. She was united in marriage to Lewis Clark Cledene, on December 27, 1865, who preceded her in death on August 11, 1908. To this union was born one son, Lester L., who with the three grandchildren, Carl, Charles and Grace survive.

She passed the early years of her life in Claridon, Ohio, where she joined the Methodist Episcopal Church during the pastorate of Rev. Steven Fann, and later becoming a member of the Home Department of the Calvary Evangelical Church of Marion.

She was a devoted mother and a kind neighbor, always appreciating any little kindness shown her. Her happiest moments were with her loved ones around her, always expressing her wishes for their comfort and pleasure. She was a devout Christian woman; always ready at all times to meet her Maker. She was patient, loving, and never complaining in her last illness. It was truly said that she was a good woman and those who knew her best, loved her most.

Her mother, not dead, the mother of our afflictions, but gone unto that home above. Where she no longer needs our poor protection and Christ himself doth rule. Day after day we will think what she is doing in those bright realms of air. And after your heart is pursuing. Behold her grown more fair. In that great cloisters' stillness and seclusion by angels led, she is safe, safe from sin's pollution, she lives—She is not dead.

LESTER VERE RENZENBERGER

Lester Vere Renzenberger, son of Mr. Frank Renzenberger and Mrs. Ethel Page. He was their only child and was born July 16, 1897, at Marion, Ohio, where he has resided throughout his lifetime.

At the time of the World War, he heard and answered the call of his country, enlisting as a volunteer in September, 1918. Upon his discharge therefrom he was returned to his home community, and for three years was a member of the Local Post of the American Legion. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, No. 70, of the Kadgar Grotto, and Knights of Pythias Lodge, No. 402.

For the past twelve years he has been employed as a photographer at the Marion Steam Shovel plant.

About one year ago Mr. Renzenberger suffered from an attack of appendicitis, but recovered without surgical treatment, and was apparently well. On last Monday, January 17, he suffered another acute attack. Medical aid was at once called; on Wednesday he was removed to the Marion City Hospital with the thought of a possible operation. But his hour had come; God had called and he must answer. He passed out on Jan. 18, 1927, at four P. M. at the City Hospital. He had reached the age of 29 years, 6 months and 3 days.

He leaves a father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renzenberger, of the Richmond Pike, a mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. W. Page, of 308 N. Prospect-st., Marion, a grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Bush of 232 Francena-av., two aunts, one uncle, two cousins and many friends, among whom is one of special acquaintanceship, Mr. Charles Germer, of 280 Elm-st., Marion.

Vere leaves with us also his testimony of a clean upright life. And may we not think of him as the poet has expressed it:

"God's labor fills the hearts that bleed; The lost fruit loads the broken bough; And in the wounds our sufferings plough.

Immortal love sows sovereign seed."

—Gerald Massey.

ALSO A 4-PASSENGER SPEEDSTER $750

In performance as well as appearance, the Essex Super-Six is an entirely new car.

It reveals the capacity of the Super-Six principle. It attains an engineering triumph in low maintenance and operating cost.

It possesses such stamina that 50 miles an hour all day long is an easy accomplishment. And so nimble and alert is its action that no car will surpass the quickness with which it may be driven through traffic or in touring, whether the trip is one of a few city blocks or hundreds of miles. To both driver and passengers, there is rare comfort in any kind of going.

Unusual accessibility means big savings in replacement, service and all shop work. Economy in fuel and oil is also a notable feature of the new Essex Super-Six.

It holds further exclusive advantages in its Super-Six motor. Four years of development has resulted in a chassis that would permit full use of its capacity. In the Essex Super-Six, performance, safety and reliability are realized to a degree never approached in a car of its size or price.

There are four new bodies on the Essex Super-Six chassis—all beautiful, all smart in line, finish, appointment and upholstery. They are easily the paramount values of Essex history.
